ABOUT ME

I am a BSc Computer Science graduate with basic knowledge of programming and computer applications. I have skills in C, HTML, and Java, which help me understand how to build simple programs and web pages. I am also good at using MS Word and other basic computer tools for documentation and presentations. I am a quick learner, interested in improving my technical skills, and ready to work on real-time projects. I enjoy working in teams, solving problems, and learning new things. I am looking for an opportunity to grow and contribute in the IT or software field
